

The Slieve Russell Golf Club recently hosted some major Irish PGA tournaments. These included, The Smurfit Irish PGA Championship in 1996 and also The Quinn-Direct PGA Charity Pro-Am, which has been held here since 1997. Both tournaments had many of the top Irish European tour card holders participating in them. The Slieve Russell also played host to a European Tour Event - North West of Ireland Open in August 2000 and 2001.

As well as a challenging game of golf, members and visitors can also enjoy the luxurious surroundings of the golf clubhouse including a wide selection of golf equipment and clothes in the pro-shop, a 5 bay flood-lit driving range, baggage storage area, comfortable locker rooms with shower areas, and the panoramic views from the Summit Bar and Restaurant.

Our resident PGA golf professionals are available for tuition and with the latest video swing analysis, can cater for all levels of golfers in this golf academy.

Please note that soft spikes are compulsory on the Golf Course.
